Part I: Jigsaw

Judy and Bob are a married couple.

They went on vacation to a ski resort.

Judy was an experienced skier. Bob was a complete novice.

He had never skied before.

Judy said, "Bob, they offer reasonably priced lessons here.

Why don't you take advantage of that? You don't know how to ski."

Bob said, "I don't need lessons. I'm an excellent athlete and skiing is very easy."

B

Judy said, "At least go to the beginner hill, Bob.

I don't want you to get injured."

Judy went to the top of the mountain. Bob followed her there.

When Bob skied down the mountain, he crashed into a tree.

Bob twisted his knee and hurt his back.

C

First aid volunteers carried Bob to the bottom of the mountain and paramedics took him to the hospital.

The x-ray showed that his arm was broken, too.

When the doctor finished putting on the cast, he said, "Next time, take skiing lessons."
